

CALL FOR SUBMISSIONS

The PTC Colony on Granville Island

November 19 – 26, 2006

Vancouver, BC

The PTC Colony is an annual play development intensive operated by Playwrights Theatre Centre in Vancouver, BC. In 2006, its inaugural year, the Colony will provide a group of five playwrights-in-residence with a dedicated creative context, dramaturgical resources and a company of actors to read their work at intervals throughout the colony. The focus is on the individual development of each playwright's work as well as the creation of a unique supportive and productive community of playwrights, directors, dramaturgs and actors. Participating playwrights must be available for full-time residency during the Colony and will receive accommodation at beautiful Granville Island Hotel, a meal allowance and, where necessary, travel to and from Vancouver. See below for application guidelines and more information.

Application Guidelines:

Application Deadline: September 6, 2006

Notification Date: September 19, 2006

Applicants must submit:

- 1) A completed application form along with a cheque or money order payable to Playwrights Theatre Centre to cover the application fee:
$25 for PTC Members / $50 for Non-Members.
Please note: The $50 application fee for non-members includes a year-long PTC Membership.
- 2) A copy of the current draft of the play you propose to work on during the colony. Copies must be unbound on 8 1/2" x 11" paper. Bound, three-hole punched or stapled scripts cannot be accepted.
Please note: Submissions by e-mail or fax will NOT be accepted. Hard copies only.
- 3) A letter outlining the developmental history of the play and what specific elements the playwright intends to focus on and develop through the colony.
- 4) A playwright's resume.

The plays will be selected by a jury of Playwrights Theatre Centre artistic staff and Canadian theatre professionals.
